

HSV212W : Supportive Communication Skills

In Supportive Communication Skills, students gain awareness of interactional communication skills expected in a supportive relationship and learn about the general practice of these skills. Through verbal instructions, role playing, class discussions, case studies, and peer and self-assessment, students become familiar with the principles and values of supportive communication.

Lecture Hours 3

Lab Hours 0 Credits 3