

LIB104W : Introduction to Technical Services

Introduction to Technical Services introduces students to the elements of technical services with print and non-print items, including selection, acquisitions, assessment, preservation, review sources, and collection development and management. The course also examines current trends and issues as they relate to these services.

Lecture Hours 3

Lab Hours 0 Credits 3